THINK OF THIS AS YOUR "GPS" TO A STRONG SECOND ACT!By Bill TaubAs a screenwriter and in addition a network marketer for a health and wellness company, I have been told to 'find a hole and fill it'. Mr. Tarnoff, through his own experiences, reflection and introspection has found a canyon and is helping to fill it. Technology has changed everything. And offers us so much more opportunity than we ever had. In this climate we all have to be more entrepreneurial -- a difficult transition for those with the employee mentality to make which gets harder and harder with age. John has given a truck load of practical steps to take for individual assessment, reflection, and constructs to come up with a realistic solution that is right for you. He has laid out the tools and a process that works -- if you're willing to do it. And why shouldn't you be? You've got everything to gain. Having the tools - being admitted to the club - doesn't automatically mean success -- that's where individual initiative comes in. I know in the Arbonne business that I do as a second stream of income, we often say: 'You can get admitted to Harvard, that doesn't mean you'll graduate phi beta kappa' He has put all the paraphernalia on the table - now it's up to you to use them. As a writer I know, Second Acts always end on a cliff-hanger!^{2 of 2} people found the following review helpful. I've recommended it to several friends and everyone agreesBy MBL 330This book helped me SO much!! John Tarnoff knows what he's talking about!! I've recommended it to several friends and everyone agrees, it's an amazing tool to change your life.^{1 of 1} people found the following review helpful. Boomer Reinvention will motivate you, inspire you, and change your life!By Mariana KerosBoomer Reinvention is a must read and what I consider a life altering prescription to guide us on this ever evolving magical journey we call Life. All of life's excitement is in the unknown and John Tarnoff leads us with such a sensitive, honest and vulnerable approach, you can't help but become a believer and embrace the future. He destroys the all too daunting negative perception of ageism and proves that experience and wisdom are invaluable gifts that give us our confidence to contribute and create with a passion that shouts " the best is yet to come! "

Faced with low retirement savings, extended longevity and rampant ageism, the baby boomer generation (born 1946-1964) is in the throes of a career and financial crisis. With less than 25% of the generation financially prepared to retire, the majority (between 60 70 million Americans) are going to need to keep working for as long as possible. But how can they find jobs or start businesses in a marketplace that appears unwilling to appreciate them for their experience and wisdom? Career coach John Tarnoff is convinced that the future is promising for boomers IF they are willing to engage with the new economy in a new way. In BOOMER REINVENTION: How to Create Your Dream Career Over 50 Tarnoff lays out a proven methodology of 5 key steps and 23 actionable strategies to give boomers the resources and confidence they need to pivot to a sustainable second act, encore career one that can be not only financially successful, but personally fulfilling as well.

"As John Tarnoff shows, the makings of your second act -one filled with meaning and purpose -are already there. And with this inspiring and yet very practical book, he gives us a step-by-step guide in how to tap into it."Arianna Huffington, CEO and Founder of Thrive Global"This is a wonderful, thoughtful book, not just a life preserver thrown into choppy waters, but a practical set of new perspectives to assume, and the most important new steps to take, to being the great and honorable American tradition of reinvention. It's never too late and things are never so bad that a new chapter can't begin. Now,here's the toolbox -joyously useful and hugely indispensable."Ken Burns, filmmaker"Boomer Reinvention is a candid and accurate portrayal of the current job market and the boomer reality.It's a great, realistic, and practical guide that addresses the psychology of change (which is often overlooked,) uncertainty, and even failure, while providing encouragement, hope, and even a bit of humor."Terry Bradwell, EVP Chief Enterprise Strategy and Innovation Officer at AARP"John Tarnoff is a master of reinvention and masters the subject for the rest of us in this terrific book. Anyone over 50 who is thinking about What If? And How Can I? will find Boomer Reinvention a valuable and entertaining resource, stuffed with plenty of practical advice."Richard Eisenberg, Work Purpose Editor, Nextavenue.org"Transitions are often harder than we expect, or hope. John Tarnoff's five-step approach is an incredibly useful blueprint for navigating this exciting stage of life."Chris Farrell, Senior Economics Contributor, Marketplace, author of Unretirement"Skip the Botox, get a faith lift! Career coach John Tarnoff has written a spirited, practical and can-do new book, skillfully showing readers how to take back control of their careers in his step-by-step methodology."Kerry Hannon, author of Getting the Job You Want After 50 and Love Your Job: The New Rules for Career HappinessAbout the AuthorJohn Tarnoff is a reinvention career coach who provides career counseling for baby boomer and late career professionals looking to defy ageism, work beyond retirement, and pivot to a new job or new business as a second act or encore career.Fired 39% over the course of his 40 year career as a Los Angeles-based entertainment industry executive, John learned the secrets of turning setbacks into successes. When his tech startup folded at the end of the dotcom bubble in 2001, he went back to school at age 50 to figure out a second act career, and earned a master's degree in spiritual psychology.Pivoting to a focus on people and career counseling, he networked his way to a new role as Head of Show Development at DreamWorks Animation from 2006-09. In this position, he developed culture-changing creative leadership training and college recruiting programs.In 2010, he joined the Carnegie Mellon University Los Angeles-based Master of Entertainment Industry Management graduate program, serving as a graduate level professor and Head of Industry Relations.
